TO THE WELFARE AND INTEREST OF THE

HESS AND HIGBEE POSTERITY

WITH A DESIRE AND PURPOSE OF PERPETUATING A KNOWLEDGE OF OUR ANCESTRY, THE PRESERVATION AND CONTINUATION OF THE SOCIAL RELATIONSHIP, HOPING TO MAINTAIN, NOT ONLY THE PRESENT HIGH DEGREE OF MORAL STANDARD, BUT STRIVING FOR A STILL HIGHER AND NOBLER ATTITUDE IN THE LIFE WHEREUNTO WE WERE CREATED.

AS IN THIS LIFE WE STAND BETWEEN TWO ETERNITIES,
THE PAST AND THE FUTURE,

SO IT IS IN KINSHIP, WE ARE BETWEEN
OUR ANCESTRY AND OUR POSTERITY,

THE LATTER HAVE THE SAME PRIVILEGE OF LOOKING BACK UPON US WITH A HOPE AND EXPECTANCY OF PRIDE THAT WE TOO, LOOK BACK UPON THE FORMER. MAY EACH ONE OF THESE FAMILIES ENGENDER THE PRINCIPLE OF

"THE NOBLE ART OF MAKING GOOD."

PREFACE

HE compiler of this genealogy has during much of his life-time taken considerable interest in noting incidents and data relative to family history; but not until six years ago, when having been accorded the distinction of Historian for the Hess-Higbee Family Reunion, was any especial effort put forth. But since that time a systematic research has been conducted, and upon suggestion of interested parties a year ago the author decided to enter into the laborious and quite endless undertaking of publishing this work, the data and records of which have been obtained largely from direct correspondence with the families. Much credit is due many who co-operated with a zeal that manifested much interest. Considerable record was obtained from encyclopediae of recognized authority, and also indirectly from official records, which were provided the author through kindness of friends, of whom modesty forbids personal mention; nevertheless the author entertains a deep sense of gratitude toward such; for, being obliged to perform a daily toil of nine hours each, the author could in no wise have secured this collection of family record without such assistance.

Relative to the statement that the author is a salary man, and that his hours for labor being in demand, let no one think that the Christian Sabbath was utilized for the accomplishment of this work;

“WILL A MAN ROB GOD?”

That is a pointed interrogation in the third chapter of Malachi and should be recognized in all its meaning. We, in a country which prides itself as being Christian, certainly should maintain Christ's standard as set forth in Matt. 19:17; Luke 11:28; John 14:23. God's word warns and directs and we should take heed thereunto. Hence, the author's attitude desiring not that the possessors of this compilation need have the blush of shame because of any such desecration.

It is proper that the cord of sympathetic condolence be caused to vibrate in recognition of the forbearance and submissiveness on the part of the immediate members of the author's family, who have been, through these years of compilation, deprived of much of the social attitude which becomes a husband and father to bestow upon her whom he has vowed to care and protect, and to those whom the Creator has given him the charge of launching upon the active wave of social, commercial, political and religious life, in which each individual becomes an important factor.

Instances where one's record is incomplete should not be considered as neglectfulness on the part of the author, but rather an inability, after repeated efforts to obtain such. Some of the kin were impossible to locate; while others perhaps considered it "graft" and some were seemingly indifferent.

Often dates and places would conflict with statements rendered by others, and sometimes even by themselves, and thus this work may be questioned by some, although the author has spent many a midnight-hour in painstaking efforts to verify dates and statements as submitted. Trusting that unavoidable errors will be excused without further apology, this volume is now submitted to the Hess-Higbee families, with a hope and trust that a charitable attitude may be accorded the author, because of any incompleteness, realizing that an error may be due to a wrong interpretation of our modern day penmanship.

When reading these genealogical records the reader will note that many of the accounts are quite incomplete. Should anyone wish to furnish a more perfect record of any portion, the author will gladly receive and file such that at some future date someone interested in the Hess-Higbee genealogy might use the same very advantageously in securing a more perfect record.

INTRODUCTION

IN introducing this volume to its readers, some may be surprised that the Hess-Higbee families do not come forth with a gilded coat-of-arms, or other significance denoting distinction and notoriety for past bravery or heraldry. The fact is, such an emblem they have not; and in this age of American progress and leadership why need they any? The time was when military men went forth to battle clad in a coat of mail upon which was displayed their respective coat-of-arms, and that such were recognized by both friend and foe. But in this age of advanced civilization (may we never deteroate) they appear before us merely in the historical past. And so may it continue to be, just so far as is necessary for the promotion of republican diplomacy.

“Deus Spes mea.”

And may each descendant of these families prove himself such a Knight of Heraldry, not so much in military combat, but rather in every day contact as a citizen in the commercial, social and political world, presenting a charitable attitude, remembering that true charity covereth a multitude of sins.

Had the author privilege of means and time to travel possibly he could trace the Hess ancestry farther back, but neither of such are at his command. Exceedingly fortunate was he in the securing of so extended a lineage of the Higbee family, though the reader will take notice that preceding James Higbee, Sr., in the ninth generation, the line of ancestry is not Higbee but dates backward from the maternal side of the family. Thus it is that the first eight generations are the progeny of William I., Prince of Orange, while the remaining generations, although the same lineage, yet the Higbee strain is followed on down to the present.

EXPLANATORY

HE numbers at the left of the page indicate the generation, and precede the name of the descendant, or, if married, precede the head of the family. Those names which have no generation number preceding are of the same generation as the preceding one that is numbered.

A number in bold type succeeding the person's name indicates that party to be a descendant, and is used for reference.

At the right hand side of the page, and opposite the record of husband and wife, are placed in succession the names of the children of that respective family; the number preceding the child's name, indicating approximately its numerical order in the lineage. Although for reasons unavoidable, these numbers are not strictly consecutive.

Illustrating the preceding, turn in the Hess portion of this volume to numbers 912, 913, 914, which appear on the right hand side of page 55, and represent these as the children of Ralph and Blanche (George) Calhoon—507. Now turn back to where No. 507 appears, and you find Blanche as one of the children of William and Margaret (Torrence) George—213. Turn back again to No. 213 at right of page where Margaret appears as one of the children of Andrew and Mary (Spahr) Torrence—127. Turn back to No. 127 and you find Andrew to be one of the family of children of Mathew and Judy (Hess) Torrence—68. Back now with No. 68 and Judy appears as one of the family of William, Sr., and Mary (Waltour) Hess. Thus you have traced the lineage of Marc, Lynn, and Howard Calhoon.

In the arrangement of the generation numbers, also the reference numbers in the Hess lineage, the author does not begin with No. 1 for the reason of having the generation and reference numbers relative to George W. and Mary A. (Higbee) Hess one and the same in both records. For reasons, see "Historical", page 10.

Much of the data in this volume was copied from family records often inscribed in the family bible, yet different dates were given by different members of the same family. Sometimes through a long course of correspondence these entanglements could be solved. Some could not. Hence errors are unavoidable regardless of the author's persistent efforts to secure facts.

In some instances the spelling of names has been different, even by members of the same family, and often the only way the compiler could adjust the difficulty was through a sense of inspiration and instinct as well as knowledge.

The reason for A, B, C succeeding the number 733 in the Higbee section is that this family of children's names were secured after the long line of successive numbers had been arranged for the press, and it was difficult to do otherwise.

In a few instances the author may have used the terms Jr. and Sr. when these expressions were not in usage by the parties applied to, but it seemed necessary to avoid complications; for instance, George W. Hess, Jr., grandson of George W. Hess, Sr.

When a reference number is repeated it signifies a second marriage.

In the index portion where the surname follows the christian name of a lady it signifies that such was her maiden name.

The usage of a —— indicates that the data was not furnished even when urgently requested. Hence, the author could scarcely do otherwise, as the following may illustrate: "I have three children, Charles, Julia, and Sarah; each married. Charles has four children, and each of the girls three children." It is a difficult undertaking to produce an interesting family record from such. Upon the second request the author is considered a "crank", or perchance it is regarded as needless; perhaps no response at all, being due to carelessness, or, maybe, a hesitancy of self-publication. Nevertheless, the compiler of such a record is really "up against it" and knows no recourse.

HISTORICAL

 F records were accessible from which one could glean authentic information relative to ancestry, it would be both interesting and gratifying; but inasmuch as we have very little of such regarding the departure of our ancestry from the fatherland and advent into the new and undeveloped wilds of America, it is necessary to depend largely upon traditional history which is handed down to us in substance, that about fifty years prior to the American Colonies' struggle for independence, three Hess brothers decided to bid farewell to loved ones in their native German home, confront the dangers and hardships of an ocean voyage, sacrificing many joys and kindred affections at the shrine of the new, yet adored, America. And because of the sinewy nerve, determined pluck, manly courage and love of independence of such as these, do we of this age and generation enjoy that which we do, and only too often depreciate our inheritance. About the same period of time (according to the traditions that various branches of Higbee posterity have) three Higbee brothers from England landed at New York, and, like the Hess brothers, pressed out into the hills of Pennsylvania, from whence they migrated; some into Kentucky, some into Virginia, some into Iowa and some into Ohio, the latter branch being the nearest kin to this genealogical record. One James Higbee, Sr. Appears to have lived in Orange County, N. Y., which is quite adjacent to New York City. Here it is that the Higbee lineage became united with the Anneke Jan lineage which latter one can be traced back eight generations farther.

Passing through Pennsylvania and eventually into Ohio with this lineage we find one Mary Ann Higbee, a granddaughter of James Higbee, Sr., uniting her future prospects with one, George W. Hess, in Crawford County, Ohio, which union materializes the Hess-Higbee combination.

The author is pleased to state that two other branches of Hess descendants, viz: the Andrew Hess family, and the Judy (Hess) Torrence family, neither of which are kin to the original Higbee family, yet are as distinctively and properly a portion of this Re-union organization and genealogy as any of the branches of lineage, have been traced with considerable accuracy.

A large percentage of these families emigrated into southwest Michigan about three-fourths of a century ago, resulting in a large circle of kindred ones whose mutual acquaintance and fellowship has been made to be more intimate through the influence of the Hess-Higbee Family Reunion, which was first held and organized at Millburg, Mich., June 20, 1903, at the home of Mary J. (Hess) Babcock, whose mother was a Higbee. The place of this first reunion was on historic ground, having been the farm of George W. Hess, who, a half century previous planted the lusty apple trees under which this first reunion assembled.

The Executive Committee which has thus far been retained comprises:

Juan Hess, President, Benton Harbor, Mich.

William A. Hess, Vice-President, Eau Claire, Mich.

Mrs. Lissa (Van Vranken) Matrau, Secretary, Watervliet, Mich.

Calvin J. Higbee, Treasurer, Benton Harbor, Mich.

W. Emerson Babcock, Historian, Mishawaka, Ind.

The historian here diverges by stating that those who placed him in this official capacity are responsible for the production of this volume, as without this incentive to spur him on, even though it was somewhat the goal of his ambition, he never would have accomplished the work in this period of time. Furthermore he desires to state that although the records are somewhat traditional, yet much care and pains have been exercised to maintain a high degree of accuracy. And while we review with pride and pleasure the achievements of our ancestry and would deplore any incident that might place a blot of unwanted reputation upon these pages of record, it behooves each of us to reflect that daily we are living and recording history for our posterity; therefore,

Let honor be a gem in the crown of thy life; and,

Let no man take thy crown.

The following poem, which was written for and read before the First Hess-Higbee Reunion, is given a place here because of its historical setting:

REFLECTIONS

Long, long years ago, in those pioneer days
Of staunch old Ohio, that good Buckeye State,
There lived a young man, junior member was he
Of a family whose sorrow I will here now relate:
George Hess, of this family, his father did lose
While plying his trade at river navigation.

Thwarted not was George's courage, energetic were they
Who were born of the blood of Penn's Dutch relation.

Soon George W. Hess, he to whom I've referred To Mary Ann Higbee became wedded for life.

They migrated Northwest, and located their house
Where mid Michigan wilds roamed the hunter with knife.

Here too was the Redman with his squaw and pappoose,
Who in primitive homes beheld with displeasure

The whiteman's advancement; and, though friendly was he Yet desired was his absence for the neighborhood's pleasure.

In those good days of yore, e'en as well as 'tis now,
Time brought many changes, and along with the rest
Appeared four robust boys and eight lovable girls
Who made cheerful this home so wonderfully blest;

With high aspirations, some profit to share,
They enter the realm of the pedagogue's sphere;

And children they tutor, educate and prepare
For their duties in life while they are sojourning here.

Now in the world's great course of all human events,
Men striving to possess of life's necessities,

Very frequently leave enduring landmarks,
Viewed oft' by admirer, enjoyed by successors:

And right royal it is that such is the way
Our Supreme Creator has prudently planned;

That all nature may tend to accomplish results
Which happiness promote, makes the world more grand.

Thus it is here today that we so nicely enjoy
 The efforts and toil of many a long day
 Here so faithfully spent in much labor and toil
 The product of all which do these fruit trees display;
 And while we're reflecting, fleeting time figures out,
 It is three score years since the clearing of wood,
 The underbrush burning, and preparing of soil;
 Replacing that great wild with this fruitage so good.

Aye! and may I recall that e'en this is not all?
 For well I remember those trees known as maple;
 Those sap-pails in high rick camp fire and great kettle
 Preparing the sugar for appetite staple;
 No sugar e'er tasted just like grandpa's sugar;
 We children enjoyed it, little thought of the toil
 Of our fond grandparents and their bevy of help
 Who ardently worked to make the sap boil.

After all do not think that this pioneer life
 Was all very tedious, and with no pleasure in it;
 For real true enjoyment encircled these hours
 Of odd Puritan tinge and real charitable grit.
 This doing of good, as did Dorcas of old,
 Gives one peace of mind, heaven's touch here below.
 Let's humanity cheer and uplift, for but once
 O'er life's rugged pathway do any of us go.

Through some evolution, and much revolution,
 Wonderful machinery of God's great creation,
 He locates among us, and He taketh away
 According to His own grand supreme dictation.
 Of all this should any their criticism express?
 Never! No. Never! But very humble submit:
 For all things, don't you know? worketh together for good,
 To all them that love God, and His ruling permit.

† Thus hath the Great Ruler, through divine laws supreme,
 From among our number seen best to remove,
 One cherished and loved by those who best knew
 The most inner nature of her gone above:

And yet, notwithstanding, the great hope that she gave
Of the life beyond this, and Christ Jesus the way,
Our dear loving sister, Oh! how sad is her grave
For it doth o'er shadow this reunion today.

‡ Aye! We sadly reflect, that more recently yet,
There hath fallen asleep our much esteemed brother,
Into that great, great sleep which earthly ties sever
Regardless of kinship, or e'en love of another.

But certain we are, and much comfort it is,
Our Comforter, Jesus, hath conquered the grave;
He said, "I am the Way"; we this mortal lay down
While the soul returns to the God whom it gave.

It is quite unnatural that we always do stay
In this Cocoon State, with the soul pent up here:
Rather let it develop and be fully matured
For a happier world, and more glorious sphere.
With this grand hope in view let's be comforted here,
And sorrow burden less, this day of reunion,
Upon which we reflect, with kindred ones near,
'Tis minature only of that heavenly reunion.

These are frequent events which afflict in this life;
And, while sadly severe, yet their tendencies are Toward heaven to raise our ideals and thoughts;
To the cross us incline; and we're better thus far.
So, with good Christian grace and much fortitude,
To these, our afflictions, ourselves should resign,
With a hope and a prayer that all meet again
In another reunion, and with unbroken line.

And while it is hoped, it is scarcely expected
That a reunion like this can we all here enjoy;
For the hour and the time, man knoweth not when
To account for his deeds he be called from employ.
May we therefore beware, and be charitable too
For charity crowneth faith, hope and much love;
And if not permitted all to here again meet,
May our souls be prepared for reunion above.

‡ In remembrance of Mr. Leander A. Hall.

SYNOPSIS

Hess-Higbee Re-Unions Since Their Inception.

DURING the spring of 1903, Mrs. Mary J. (Hess) Babcock and daughter, Mrs. Ona Irwin, favored the holding of a family picnic in the apple orchard surrounding the home of the former, near Millburg, Mich. Desirous of showing no disrespect, the nearby relatives were invited to participate. It seemed difficult to draw a limit, whereupon the conclusion was that a general invitation be extended to all relatives. Let it be understood that at this period in the arrangements the senior promoter of this enterprise suffers an affliction in the decease of her daughter, Mrs. Ona B. Irwin. Yet with the undaunted courage, and a will submissive to the rulings of a Supreme Father, the mother Babcock proceeds in the carrying out in detail of the plans for this family gathering and enterprise. Accordingly, though somewhat informally, this was done, the hostess wondering whether this assemblage would be 60 or 70 personages. On the 20th day of June, as anxious ones awaited the arrival of friends, wonderment changed to astonishment as the company enumerated 135 relatives. At the after-dinner social hour, expressions were made regarding the enjoyment and benefit of such an occasion, which resulted in organizing a Hess-Higbee Re-union to meet annually, arrangements for which were vested in an executive committee, then and there chosen.

The Second Re-union was pleasantly entertained by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hess, near Eau Claire, Mich., July 23, 1904, in their maple grove yard.

The Third Re-union convened July 22, 1905, at the home of J. G. and Tola (Higbee) Phillips, a former home of the venerable J. F. Higbee, east of Benton Harbor, Mich. This re-union was remarkable for many of the attendants having come long distances to participate in this social event.

The Fourth Re-union assembled July 21, 1906, at the residence of Dr. and Altavene (Hess) Weir, Millburg, Mich., which had been the home of George W. and Mary A. (Higbee) Hess from 1838 until the time of their decease. The participants in this reunion numbered 190 relatives.

The Fifth Re-union met in a beautiful grove at Eau Claire, Mich., July 27, 1907, attendance at which was somewhat restricted owing to agricultural conditions. Yet our venerated grandma and aunt, Emily (Higbee) VanVranken, whose locks are four score and ten, as in the past was present, and she still expects to attend the coming event.

The Sixth Re-union was entertained by W. H. and Amanda (Higbee) Hill August 8, 1908, at their residence in Bainbridge, Berrien County, Mich., where an elaborate show tent was erected and seated, enhancing the comfort and happiness of this large assemblage.

The Seventh Re-union convened August 21, 1909, at Eastman Springs Resort, near Benton Harbor, Mich. A social was enjoyed renewing kindred acquaintances in this one of nature's beauty spots. At the business session the following officers were elected:

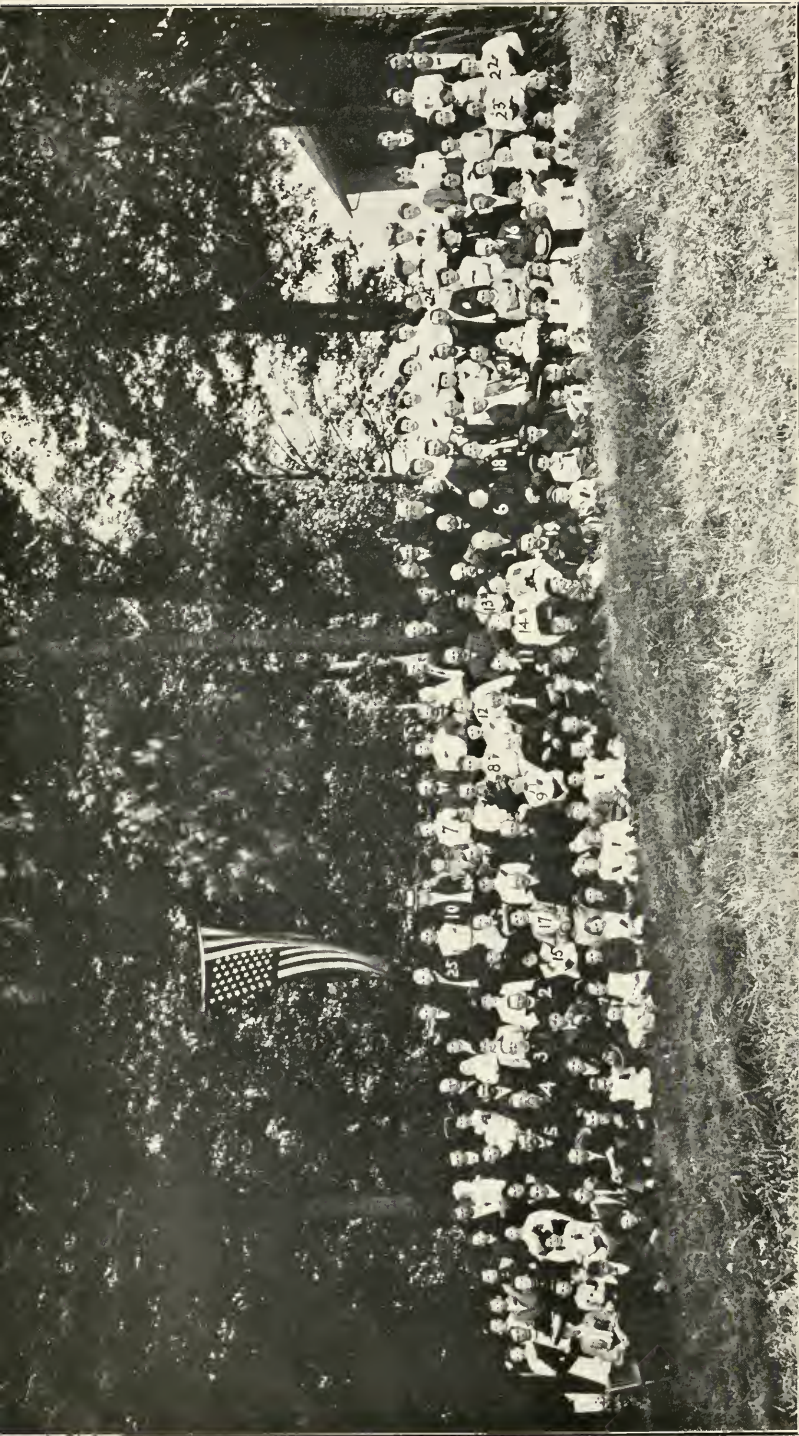

Dr. J. J. Weir, president, Millburg, Mich.; Mrs. Ona E. Reese, vice-president, Bangor, Mich.; Miss Mamie Wright, secretary, Benton Harbor, Mich.; George D. Hill, Sr., treasurer, Benton Harbor, Mich.; W. Emerson Babcock, historian, Mishawaka, Ind.

These re-unions demonstrate that

"Unity and Affiliation are the Bonds of Friendship,"

Therefore,

Residents of Westmoreland Co., Pa., and of German descent, Mr. Hess being of the second generation of American birth. Traditional history bears record that three Hess brothers in Germany concluded to chance their future in America. Fearing the depredations of pirates, which infested the ocean waters of those days, these young men planned that in the making of their shoes (for they were shoemakers by trade) they would remove circles of leather from the inner shoe soles, placing therein gold coin. Accordingly while enroute they were captured by pirates, and, after some time in bondage, they succeeded in securing a price upon their freedom, whereupon they removed their shoe-soles, paid the ransom, and proceeded towards the land of promise, though meeting with obstacles of which we know not.

The decease of Mr. Hess, which occurred while his son, George, was yet a small lad, entailed many hardships upon the widowed mother, who diligently strove to and did maintain the family home circle. Incidents are related how this mother toiled in the field with her babes under the protection of nearby trees, while she endeavored to bear the burden of both father and mother.

Nancy Jane Gowing, daughter of Andrew and Mary Hess, was born March 14, 1844, and died at Sulphur Springs, O., Oct. 7, 1888, aged 44 years 6 months and 23 days. The bereaved husband and four children mourn the loss of a good wife and kind mother. The aged mother, Mrs. Hess, with five sons and two daughters, mourns the death of three daughters and one daughter-in-law within the year 1888. Margaret Sweeney died March 29, 1888; Mrs. Frank Hess died April 16, 1888; Delilah Crall died April 30, 1888. The bereaved are comforted by the assurance that their departed loved ones now rest in Heaven. H. S. R.

Following is the obituary of Mrs. Andrew Hess:

At seven o'clock yesterday morning the tolling of the church bell at Berrien Centre conveyed to us the sad intelligence that a long, happy, useful and well spent life was ended and that the pure spirit of Grandma Hess, as we were wont to call her, had passed from earth to the joys of life eternal, the last battle fought, the victory won, the cross exchanged for the crown. She died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. K. P. McCullough, in Berrien Centre, April 12, 1897, aged 82 years, 5 months and 26 days. Mary Hemry was born in Harrison county, Ohio, Oct. 16, 1814, and was married April 9, 1833, to Andrew Hess, who entered the upper and better world Dec. 28, 1875, aged 69 years. To Mr. and Mrs. Hess were born six sons and six daughters, all of whom were baptised in infancy and brought up in the nurture and admonition of the Lord. These parents were members of the Lutheran church and their children, with perhaps one or two exceptions, became members of the same or some other church. Five sons and two daughters, Wm. A., Henry, Isaac, John A., Frank, Mrs. McCullough and Mrs. John Bower survive the mother. Besides these, thirty-four grandchildren and twenty-one great grandchildren mourn their loss. The funeral, conducted by Rev. W. W. Hess, who spoke comforting words from the 90th Psalm. Henry, John A. and William Hess will convey the remains to Sulphur Springs, Ohio, where the last sad rites of love and respect will be paid to the memory of one whose long life was spent in doing what she could do for the good of others. Early this young couple resolved to press the frontier of civilization, and in Sept., 1837, emigrated via the south side of the St. Joseph river, over a trail a portion of which is now a street of renown, within a block distance of where their senior grandchild is compiling this genealogy; they wended their way to Berrien Co., Mich., encountering obstacles incident to frontier experience, one of which was being obliged to abandon their wagon in mid-stream when fording the broad St. Joseph river at its mouth, mount the horses and ride ashore thence five miles into the forest, where amid the Indian trails were finally located the parents of this young wife, who had preceded them a few months. Mr. Hess was of an industriously progressive nature, being a carpenter, cabinet maker and farmer, thus materially developing this virgin state, which had just become one of the union. Being of German descent and retaining the language, he proved to be of great use officially as an interpreter. He it was who planted the apple orchard just south of Millburg wherein was held the First Hess-Higbee reunion. Volumes could be written relative to the experiences of these frontiers-folk, but suffice to say that they became the proud parents of 12 children, and, with the exception of one who deceased in girlhood, all are living and enjoying a goodly degree of health at this writing, the oldest being 72 while the youngest is 52 years of age. Ten of the eleven children became school teachers, all being reared in the village of Millburg, while the farm was across the waters of the deep gorged Blue creek.

At the advanced age of 84 years, Mr. Hess, while hauling rails, suffered a stroke of paralysis rendering him quite helpless the remainder of his life.

FISHER, NANCY TORRENCE—129,

b. March 7, 1824, Hanson Co., O.; d. Feb. 25, 1891, Grinnell, Iowa.

Married March 5, 1846, Crawford Co., O. Residence, Grinnell, Ia., until after the wife's decease, when Rev. Fisher made his home at Clear Lake, Ia. Vocation, United Brethren minister.

Obituaries of Rev. and Mrs. Fisher are in part as follows:

Nancy Fisher, wife of Rev. G. P. Fisher, died in Grinnell, Iowa, Feb. 25, 1891, aged 67 years. She was born in Harrison Co., Ohio. With her father she moved to Crawford Co., Ohio. She was united in marriage to G. P. Fisher in 1846, and in 1848 they moved to Putnam Co., Ohio, when it was called the backwoods. In 1855 they started for Iowa; but sickness overtook them, and they did not reach Iowa till November, 1856, when they settled in Powershiek Co. Her maiden name was Torrence. She was converted at a camp-meeting in either 1841 or 1842, and joined the Church of the United Brethren in Christ, and was a consistent Christian till her death. She was a sufferer many years, and especially the last eleven. Her faith in Christ remained unshaken. Some months before death she felt that her stay would not be long here, and therefore set her house in order by way of arranging for her burial in detail, with as much composure as though she were only going on a short journey to see a friend. She arranged for her dressing, pall bearers, minister, and the text, and then quietly and peacefully fell asleep in Jesus, leaving a husband, one daughter, and three grandchildren to mourn. L. H. BUFKIN.

Rev. George P. Fisher, father of Mrs. N. T. Latimer, died Friday morning, December 11, 1908, at the home of his daughter. He had no particular disease, but little by little his physical powers gave way on account of old age. He had been confined to his room but a short time. Rev. Mr. Fisher was born in Canton, Ohio, April 18, 1825, being 83 years, 7 months and 23 days old. He was married to Miss Nancy Torrence of Crawford County, Ohio, November 15, 1846. Three children were born, two dying in infancy and the other being Mrs. N. T. Latimer. His wife died February 22, 1891, and since that time he has lived with his daughter. Mr. Fisher was converted when 17 years of age and joined the United Brethren church November 2, 1842. In 1855 he was given a license to preach in Ohio. In 1862 he was ordained in Guthrie County, Iowa. He was an active preacher a goodly number of years. The funeral services were held at the home of his daughter Saturday, December 12, 1908 and were conducted by Rev. Hartsough. The remains were taken to Grinnell and then to Westfield, Mr. Fisher's former home. The people of Westfield remember Mr. and Mrs. Fisher as good Christian people and leaders in revival meetings. Mr. Fisher and wife were people willing and seeking to do good that when the Master called they might give a good account of their stewardship.

BIOGRAPHY.

Delilah Crall was born in Crawford County, Ohio, March 10th, 1834 and died at her home near Berrien Center, Mich., April 30th, 1888, aged 54 years, 1 month and 20 days. She was a daughter of Andrew and Mary Hess, and was married to Jacob B. Crall, Oct. 18th, 1855. To them were born four children, three daughters and one son, all living. The deceased sought and found the Savior when quite young, and united with the Evangelical Lutheran church of which her parents were members. In the year 1856 she with her husband joined the United Brethren church, of which both were members for twenty-five years. During the last seven years of her life she was a member of the Wesleyan Methodist connection. This church relationship was entered into by her and her husband and part of the children because they could endorse more fully the doctrinal views of this church, especially that part relating to the total exclusion of its pales of all members of organized secret societies. She died as she lived, and her life was a living witness that Christ has power on earth to save. Her light was not hid behind tyled doors, but was always open for inspection—as a city set upon a hill. Her sun went down surrounded with a halo of glory.

BERRIEN CENTER LOSES A GOOD CITIZEN.

Henry Hess was born at Sulphur Springs, Ohio, May 2, 1838 and died at his home in Berrien Centre, April 7, 1908, aged 69 years, 11 months and 5 days. He was laid to rest in the beautiful Union church cemetery, Friday afternoon, April 10, Rev. E. A. Hoffman, of Benton Harbor, and the Rev. Harshman of Berrien Springs, officiating. Mr. Hess was a veteran of the civil war, enlisting at Tiffin, Ohio, Aug. 15, 1861, in Company C, 49th Regiment Ohio Volunteer Infantry, and was promoted to sergeant March 18, 1862; re-enlisted at Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 25, 1864. He was present and participated in the battles of Shiloh, Stone River, Liberty Gap, Rocky Ridge, Rensselaer, Pickett Mills and at Dallas, Ga., at which place he was severely wounded, May 27, 1864, and was discharged at Springfield, Ills., Nov. 11, 1865. In the spring of 1866 he, with his wife moved from their home in Ohio to Berrien Township, Mich., on the farm in section 15, which place has since been their home. Mr. Hess was converted when a young man and united with the Methodist church, but after coming to Michigan he joined the United Brethren church at Maple Grove, and later finding a church home with the Evangelical Lutheran church, was one of the leaders in building a beautiful little church in the village. In life he was a cheerful worker, and to know him was to love him, in sickness a patient sufferer, in the hour of death a believer in Christ and was conscious to the last moment of life, and his message to those around him was to be good, look to the Lord and meet him in heaven.

Several years Mr. Hess was a member of the Berrien County Brass Band, which, throughout the state, bore an enviable reputation.

DEATH OF MRS. GEORGE E. GOWING.

Mrs. George E. Gowing, died on Sabbath morning, Oct. 7, at 3:30 o'clock, after a prolonged case of sickness, in the forty-fifth year of her age. She was born on March 14, 1844, in Crawford County, Ohio, being the daughter of Andrew and Mary (Henry) Hess. She was raised in Liberty Township, and was married Feb. 8, 1866, to George E. Gowing, and they were the parents of four children, three sons and one daughter, as follows: Frank, Ella, Willie and Elmer. March 7, 1870, she removed with her family to Missouri and they resided there eight years, returning to Crawford county in 1878, where they have since resided. She united with the Lutheran church in her girlhood and has since lived a consistent, earnest Christian, and died having the hope of everlasting life. For the past year she has been in failing health and gradually growing weaker, being confined to her bed for six weeks previous to her death. The funeral was held on Monday, Oct. 8, services being conducted at the Evangelical Lutheran church in Sulphur Springs, by Rev. Baker, and the remains were buried in the Crall church yard.

J. NELSON BABCOCK DIES AT HARPER, KAS.

The Banner Register is in receipt of a communication announcing the death of J. Nelson Babcock, at Harper, Kan., Oct., 28, at the advanced age of 81 years, his demise being due to the infirmities of old age, having been in a feeble state of health for the past three years. Mr. Babcock was a native of New York, removing from that state in 1853, accompanied by his widowed mother, and settled upon a farm at Keeler, Mich. On Nov. 18, 1856, he married Miss Mary J. Hess, eldest child of the late George W. Hess, of Millburg, in which vicinity many relatives reside. In 1880, Mr. and Mrs. Babcock moved to Harper, Kan., returning in 1897 to Millburg, where they resided a few years, until feeble health necessitated retirement from active life. The bereaved wife, who has been a faithful and constant attendant to her husband's needs, survives with five sons, respectively, W. Emerson Babcock, of Mishawaka, Ind.; Frank H. Babcock, of Dowagiac; George N. Babcock, of Spruce, Mo.; Lewellyn W. and Fred A. Babcock, of Harper, Kan., Mr. Babcock's demise occurring at the home of the latter son. In accordance with his request the remains were laid to rest in the City cemetery, at Harper, Kan.

Upon returning to Millburg, Mich., in 1897, Mr. and Mrs. Babcock occupied a ten acre portion of the original Hess farm, where, under the massive apple trees, planted over one-half century previous, assembled the first Hess-Higbee Reunion June 20, 1903. It was here also that this aged couple celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary Nov. 18, 1906.

Little data relative to the Webber family is obtainable other than that they resided in Harlem, Holland, about A. D. 1560, being a family of sufficient personality to warrant the establishing of a Coat of Arms.

WILLIAM I, PRINCE OF ORANGE—1,

b. April 14, 1553, Dillenburg, Nassac.

2—Lady Anneke

WILLIAM, LADY,

Born of Lutheran parentage in Nassau, now Weisbaden, a district of the Prussian province of Hesse-Nassau, from which, through the revolt of the Netherlands arose the present Holland, distinct from Belgium, this Prince comes before his people as a reformer and promoter of national liberty. By the "Pacification of Ghent" in 1576, William united the provinces in one confederation much to the displeasure of King Philip II. of Spain, who now set a price upon the Prince's head, and, after repeated attempts, succeeded in causing his betrayal and assassination at Delft, South Holland, July 10, 1671. The church contains a monument in memory of the Prince. 1584

9—Anneke, Jr.

Married, —, 1624, Amsterdam, Holland, from whence emigrated to America in 1630, locating at Renslerwyck on the Hudson near the present site of Albany, N. Y. Moved to New Amsterdam in 1636, locating in the rear of where the present city hall is and Lower Canal St. Here they obtained possession of a tract of land containing 62 acres, which has since become a great bone of contention. Roeloff Jans was a man of official and political distinction, and a stream of water in that locality still perpetuates his name.

Married, —, 1638, New Amsterdam, N. Y.

Rev. Bogardus, as a minister of the Dutch Reformed church, was a man of deep convictions and indomitable courage, often precipitating him into serious controversies. In the fall of 1647 he bid farewell to his wife and children, taking passage in the ship, Princess, for a visit to the fatherland. But the kinsfolk in Holland were deprived of enjoying this visit, for off the coast of Wales the vessel mistook the chanel, shipwrecked upon a rock and the Dominie perished Sept. 27, 1647. No doubt a long period elapsed before the family in New America learned of the sad news. The Dominie's piety was manifestly illustrated in all the business details of his life. His character and attributes are vividly portrayed through the annals of the semi-ancient colony.

Mrs. Bogardus, generally known as Anneke Jans, was of Holland birth, coming to America in childhood and living her girlhood in New Amsterdam on and about the present site of Trinity church.

Twice married, rearing a family by each union; twice widowed, surviving the last husband 16 years, she through it all displayed business tact and ability that was enviable. Having come into possession of considerable property, and realizing her advanced age, she arranged for the disposal of her belongings by a will which displayed a touch of her spiritual attitude, for in part it recommended her immortal soul to Almighty God, her Creator and Redeemer, and consigning her body to Christian burial. Thus she soon afterward closed a notable career.

The Bogardus heirs claimed their share of the estate known as the Trinity church property in the city of New York, which latter corporation had secured possession of by a 99-year lease, but had been given by will of Anneke Jans (Yans) Bogardus, bearing date of Jan. 27, 1663, and recorded at Albany, N. Y., to her children and grandchildren. At present date this estate is valued approximately at $60,000,000.00.

The above data was furnished James F. Higbee, of Benton Harbor, Mich., by Daniel T. Stewart, of East Hamburg, N. Y.

JANS, JAN—5,

JANS, —,

A tract of land on the Mohawk between Albany and Schnectady, having been given this son by Anneke Jans, he, with his wife, located thereon, where they subsequently were massacred by the Indians.

KIERSTEAD, DR, HANS,

KIERSTEAD, SARA JANS—6,

Sara seems to have been unfortunate in the loss of husbands as she was thrice married. She and the doctor lived and are supposed to have died at the present corner of Pearl and Whitehall Streets, New York. Subsequently she married Cornelius Van Borsum, owner of the ferry to Long Island, and afterward wedded one, Elbert Elbertsen. Sara was proficient in many of the dialects of the Indian language and acted as interpreter for Gov. Stuyvesant in the treaty of 1664.

Were residents of Orange Co., N. Y., which is not far distant from New York City.

Thus far this genealogy has been the descendants of Anneke Jan, a granddaughter of William, Prince of Orange. The 20th century Encyclopedia is authority for the following: "Orange, a city and commune of France, 18 miles north of Auignon. For five centuries prior to 1531, Orange was an independent principality ruled by its own sovereigns. Now the estates and title pass to the Count of Nassau and thus to the princes. Though Orange was ceded to France in 1713, yet the title of Prince has descended by the younger Nassau line to the kings and stadtholders of Holland."

The above James Higbee, Sr., is of the oldest generation of which data could be obtained and throughout the remainder of this volume the Higbee lineage will be recognized.

HIGBEE, MARY FENTON,

b. April 8, 1782; d. March 20, 1844, Millburg, Mich. Cause of Mr. Higbee's death, dropsy. Mrs. Higbee's death occurred shortly after the removal of some wens from her head.

Filled with the desire of keeping to the front in this rapidly developing America, these sturdy ancestors had ventured forward, pressing the frontier until now their descendants have scattered throughout New York and Pennsylvania. And this young couple, having married about 1803, moved from Ontario Co., N. Y., in 1824, becoming residents of Crawford Co., O. But being eager to acquire the advantages incident to the developing of a new country they pushed westward, locating in Southwest Michigan, establishing a home in the forest at a point five miles east of St. Joseph, during June of 1837.

This sturdy son of Buckeye nativity emigrated with his parents from Ohio to Michigan when a lad of 19 years. Four years later he married Miss Mary Lewin, of Louisa Co., Ia., on Sept. 30, 1841, locating on a farm near the parental homestead in Benton Twp., Berrien Co., Mich., which farm became the birthplace of a family of children characteristic of such as of pioneer days. Mr. Higbee was notable for his thrift, enthusiasm and energy by which he developed and maintained a prominent standard among his agricultural associates. In after years Mr. and Mrs. Higbee retired from active life making for themselves a beautiful home in Benton Harbor, Mich., where on July 4, 1895, the wife departed earthly life. Needing the association and care of a helpmate, Mr. Higbee accordingly married Sarah Jones, Sept. 15, 1896. Mr. Higbee lived in this same locality nearly three-fourths of a century.

Nothing daunting the aspirations of this young couple they launched their future, Jan. 9, 1842, with an ox team amid the forests of Southwest Michigan, erecting a log house in Bainbridge on the same site where their son, Urias, now lives. In 1859 they purchased the farm across the highway, moving thereto, where continued the home until long after the decease of Mr. Van Vranken. The widowed mother, because of advanced years, then shared the homes of her children. In April, 1852, Mr. Van Vranken, bidding farewell to his young wife and five children, started for the gold fields of California, whither he remained away until in 1858, returning with much experience and hardship. But the hardship was not all one-sided, for the wife, while having the care of five little ones, experienced in due time the bringing forth of a girl whose earthly walk was only during the father's absence.

At this writing Mrs. Van Vranken is the only surviving member of her father Higbee's family. And, although nearing four score and ten, she attended her brother James' funeral 11 miles distant by carriage. Furthermore, Emily Higbee Van Vranken is the only relative of the 11th generation yet living.

HIGBEE, LUSETTA WISE,

b. July 16, 1823; d. May 22, 1884, Muir, Mich.

This couple was married April —, 1844, just prior to the death of the groom's father and subsequent to that of his mother. They established their home one-half mile west of the father Higbee in Benton Township. Later they lived one mile north of Millburg, thence near Coloma, where the wife deceased. Myron is the only soldier of this family. He bid his family adieu and with the 49's started for California, but upon arriving at New York (which via the Isthmus of Panama was then a customary route to the gold fields) he returned home.

Myron was the one soldier of this family, enlisting in Company B, 12th Mich. Vol. Inf. Oct. 26, 1861. Discharged Dec. 26th, 1863, at Little Rock, Ark. Re-enlisted Dec. 28th, 1863. Honorably discharged Dec. 17th, 1864, at Jefferson Barracks, Mo.

His second marriage occurred ———, after which they resided at Grand Rapids, Mich., until her death occurred. He later made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Ellen Becker at Coloma, Mich.

Mr. Higbee seems to have had some premonition of a disastrous voyage from the fact that before setting sail he deposited what unnecessary funds he had with him subject to the order of his wife. Previously Mr. Higbee, with the wealth-seeking 49'ers, made the journey to California, and, like many others, returned with much experience.

Higbee, and the two, by close application to agricultural industry, have attained a beautiful rural home, where the Hess-Higbee families were received Aug. 8, 1908, to celebrate their sixth annual re-union.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill are fortunate in that their children are each located nearby the old home and the children can congratulate themselves in having received substantial and material aid from these industrious parents when launching their respective homes. The present house of Mr. and Mrs. Hill was erected in 1875, and, although a rural residence 8 miles east of Benton Harbor, yet is equipped with modern improvements.

Married Nov. 1, 1866, following the vocation characteristic of the Higbees, viz: agriculture, occupying the original parental homestead after the parents had erected a more modern residence on a nearby and a sightly location of this farm. In after years this historical family residence was left in the possession of a son, and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Higbee retired to Benton Harbor, where on Britain Ave. they were caring for the aged father, James F. Higbee, until his recent demise.

Calvin J. Higbee enlisted in the service as a Union soldier during the last year of the civil war, being one to reinforce a regiment which had seen hard fighting. Enlistment took place Sept. 5, 1864, at Kalamazoo, Mich. Went to Jackson, Mich., where, with about 300 recruits, transportation was made in cattle cars to Calumet Junction, thence to Cairo, Ill. Then took steamer down the Mississippi and up the White river into Arkansas, where the sad news of President Lincoln's assassination was received. Time was being utilized in military drill and building railroad tressels, when shortly orders were for each to pack up with one day's rations and forty rounds of cartridges. Then "fall in line," "forward march." Privates knew nothing only to obey. Marched to Little Rock, Ark., being on review one day. They marched to Little Washington, a distance of 125 miles; thence to Camden, Ark. Shortly afterward his company B marched to Shampandola, thence to Camden, where on Sept. 9, 1865, he was mustered out, and marching to Little Rock received an honorable discharge, having experienced quite as much marching as fighting.

The early part of his married life was lived in Bainbridge, Berrien Co., Mich. From July 1, 1874, to July 1, 1875, he was a U. S. mail carrier between Benton Harbor and Decatur, Mich., residing in the former city. In June, 1877, he moved to Manistee, Mich., later spending a few years at Sharon, Walworth Co., Wis., eventually returning to the old homestead for a few years.

CONCLUSION.

HESS - HIGBEE GENEALOGY

PUBLISHED AT LAST:

THE GOAL OF THE AUTHOR'S PRIDE, AMBITION AND EFFORTS. A TRITE SAYING IS, "IF YOU WANT A THING DONE WELL, JUST DO IT YOURSELF": ITS APPLICATION TO THIS WORK MAY BE SOMEWHAT QUESTIONABLE, NEVERTHELESS THE AUTHOR HATH DONE WHAT HE COULD; AND REFLECTS WITH PRIDE THAT NO INSTANCE WAS GIVEN WHEREIN THE CIVIL LAW HAD BEEN VIOLATED: MAY WE OF THIS GENERATION CONGRATULATE OURSELVES IN THIS, AND SAFEGUARD OUR DAILY WALK THAT OUR POSTERITY MAY NEVER HAVE THE BLUSH OF SHAME TO SADDEN THEIR CAREER.
